

Mrs. Schwertner's News
August 22, 2008

We have been very, very busy this week in our 3/4K class. We have been learning how to line up and how to stay in a line. We have also been learning about the class rules. Some of our rules are: we walk in the classroom; we listen when the teacher is talking, and we stay sitting in our chair when we are eating snack. We have also been getting used to following the class routine and schedule. We have discussed how it is nice if we share with our friends when we are participating in centers. We have also discussed how we need to treat our friends and that we need to use our words to express how we are feeling. We have discussed proper restroom habits, and how we need to make sure that we wash our hands to get rid of the germs that may be on them. We have also spent time practicing the Sign of the Cross and many different prayers, one of which is the Our Father. I have been reading small stories from "My First Catholic Bible" several times during the day. During lunch, we are learning that we need to stay sitting while we eat, so that we don't spill anything. We have had fun and made many new friends.

Things you can do to earn service hours:

- Check frequently to see if our water bottles need to be filled.
- Take home construction paper to sort by color.
- Take home our religion books and remove the sheets and sort them.

Things to work on at home:

- How to tuck in your shirt.
- Remember the students go to the restroom alone, so please practice proper restroom hygiene (wiping)

Reminders:

- Snacks next week provided by the Mary Allison Family
- Please write your daughter's/son's name on ALL items sent to school (clothes, bags, blankets etc.)
